Airport-like boarding passes for entry to railway station, trains in UP's Prayagraj

New delhi: In a first, North Central Railway has introduced airport like boarding facility at Prayagraj Railway station in order to implement contactless ticket checking, a senior Railway official said on Friday. Ajit Kumar Singh, CPRO, North Central Railway, passengers arriving at junction station are first taken to a boarding hall with four new check-in counters. These counters are fully contactless keeping in view the safety of our esteemed passengers due to Covid crisis. For scanning ticket and passenger identity particulars, a webcam on the passenger side has been provided which is connected to computer available with ticket checking staff. For communication between passenger and ticket checking staff microphone and speakers are provided on both sides physically separated through glass partition wall of the counter. This technology not only ensures contactless ticket checking to safeguard passengers and railway staff but also helps in identifying vacant berths in a train which are then relayed to next station for better availability of berth to passengers. Thermal scanning process is also being integrated to this system to make it comprehensive and single checkpoint for passenger for entry in the station.

Besides these standard arrangements, innovative concepts are also being tried out for efficient handling of passengers with proper social distancing and minimal physical contact. One such system for automatic QR code based ticket scanning has already been implemented at Prayagraj Junction station of North Central Railway since June 1. Railways also said that 30 AC special trains from May 12 and 200 special trains from June 1 have been started of which 26 AC special and 100 other special trains have stoppage at different stations over NCR including 2 originating specials between Prayagraj-New Delhi and Kanpur-New Delhi. In wake of the Covid-19 elaborate social distancing and hygiene arrangements have been made at all stations handling these trains and originating trains of North Central Railway.

Indo-China border standoff: Plan to start construction of Ram Temple in Ayodhya suspended

New delhi: Amid the Indo-China border standoff, the Ram Mandir trust has put on hold its plan to begin the construction of the temple in Ayodhya. In an official communique, the trust said that the situation at the India-China border is "serious" and defending the country is "most important". The decision comes days after a violent face-off between Indian and Chinese troops in the Galwan Valley in Ladakh left 20 Indian Army personnel dead. Expressing concern over the killing of Indian soldiers, the trust which has been charged with the construction of the temple after the historic Supreme Court verdict last year, said a new date will be decided soon. "The decision to begin construction (of temple) will be taken according to the situation in the country and will be announced officially," Anil Mishra, member of the trust. The trust also paid tributes to the soldiers. Meanwhile, different Hindu organisations staged protests against China in Ayodhya. While Hindu Mahasabha activists burned the Chinese flag, activists of the Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) burned the effigy of Chinese President Xi Jinping and smashed Chinese-made products.

Assam: Covid-19 patient dies from head injuries while trying to flee quarantine

New delhi: A man (40) has died in Assam due to head injuries sustained while trying to flee from a quarantine centre after he came to know that he has tested coronavirus disease (Covid-19) positive. The deceased, who had recently returned from Odisha, where he was working, amid the easing of nationwide lockdown restrictions, was quarantined at a makeshift facility in a school near his native village in Bongaigaon district. "The deceased and another person tested Covid-19 positive on Tuesday. He was informed about it and an ambulance was sent to transfer both these patients to a hospital," said MS Lakshmi Priya, deputy commissioner (DC), Bongaigaon. "When the ambulance reached the quarantine centre, the other person boarded the vehicle. But the man, who had recently returned from Odisha, gave an excuse that he would need to collect some of his stuff from the quarantine centre. He tried to scale a wall of the centre in a bid to escape. Unfortunately, he slipped and sustained severe head injuries," the DC added. He was immediately shifted to the medical college hospital in neighbouring Barpeta district, where he was admitted to the intensive care unit (ICU). He died on Thursday. "Even though he had tested Covid-19 positive, he didn't die due to symptoms related to the viral outbreak. His death won't be counted as a Covid-19 fatality," the DC said. "This is an unfortunate incident and the deceased would definitely have recovered from the viral disease within a few days.

We've no idea why he took such an extreme step. We're taking extra care of all those who are under institutional quarantine in the district," she added. His last rites were performed at his native village in Bongaigaon district on Thursday, as per the central government's strict guidelines of disposing of bodies of Covid-19 patients. Bongaigaon district has recorded 65 Covid-19 positive cases until Thursday. Around 7,000 people working in other states have returned to the district in the past 45 days since the ban on inter-state movement was lifted.

Delhi-NCR: Small magnitude earthquakes do not indicate a bigger one is coming, says Wadia Institute

New delhi: Small magnitude earthquakes in Delhi-NCR region do not indicate a bigger tremor is coming, the Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology said on Friday. The Dehradun-based autonomous research institute under the Union science and technology ministry clarified that the vulnerability of a region can be understood from past seismicity, calculation of strain and mapping of active faults. Delhi-NCR is in the second highest seismic hazard zone or Zone IV. Sometimes a vulnerable zone remains quiet, experiences small magnitude earthquakes that do not indicate any bigger earthquake, or can receive a sudden jolt by a big earthquake without any call, the institute said in a statement. HT had reported on June 4 that Delhi-NCR witnessed at least 14 earthquakes in around two months (March 24 to June 3). A 3- magnitude earthquake was recorded near Gautam Budh Nagar on Wednesday night, according to data from the National Center for Seismology. All earthquakes in the past two months have been mild with only two above 3.5 magnitude. On May 29, Rohtak recorded an earthquake of 4.6 magnitude. There have been several more mild quakes in June. The statement from Wadia Institute said: "The recent events cannot be defined as the 'foreshocks'. If a big earthquake takes place in a region, all smaller events that occurred in the immediate past at that region are categorised as the foreshocks."

Ladakh face-off: Troops deployed on LAC to get body protection suits, batons

New delhi: The Indian Army has ordered body protective suits and batons for forward troops deployed along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in eastern Ladakh, the focus of current tensions with China, to protect them from assaults by Chinese troops, two officers familiar with the development said on Friday. The Chinese troops have been using stones, iron rods and nail-studded clubs to inflict serious injuries during border brawls. Twenty Indian soldiers, including a colonel, were injured in a seven-hour brawl in Galwan Valley on Monday night. The order for the suits - essentially light-weight riot gear - was placed with a Mumbai-based firm last month after scores of Indian soldiers, including a colonel, were injured in a clash with Chinese troops on the northern bank of Pangong Lake on the night of May 5-6, said one of the two officials cited above. Indian and Chinese soldiers have been caught in a tense confrontation along the disputed border since rival patrols clashed near Pangong Lake last month. The soldiers along the LAC will get 500 sets of protective suits soon in the first instalment, said the second officer. The army has ordered a total of around 2,000 sets of protective suits and batons, he said. The tensions escalated significantly after the brutal clash between Indian and Chinese troops in Galwan Valley on June 15. Both sides suffered casualties.
